

CHAPTER V

CLOSURE

A. Conclusion

Based on descriptive qualitative research conducted about 2 months at Language Development Unit at UIN Antasari Banjarmasin so it can be concluded that:

1. There are 8 types of misspelling words categorized by experts. The data in this research shows the types of misspelling words was the same as the theory which the experts are also stated and categorized such as: Addition/Insertion, Omission, Substitution, Transposition, Grapheme Substitution, Word Space, Capital, and Other.
2. Besides, there are still also writing problems which happen to the Participants. According to some experts there are 10 categories but the result shows there are just 4 categories most happen to the participants such as: Spelling, Tenses, Pronoun, and Words and Word Choice.
3. In this research shows there are 3 causes of misspelling which usually happen to the participants but there are some points which is in that category are not happen to the participants such as: a). Deficiency in Knowledge of English Spelling Rules. a.1). The Irregularity of English Spelling Words. a.2). The Inconsistency of English Writing System. b). Linguistic Different. c). Participants' Carelessness in Writing.

B. Suggestion

Based on the result of the study, the researcher gives some suggestions which are for:

1. The Lecturers

The lecturers are expected to help their participants to overcome their problems especially in learning writing and it is better if the lecturers are digging more about participants' problems in studying English especially in writing.

2. The Participants

It is expected for the participants to know one of problems in English spelling; misspell words and they expected to be able to minimize the misspell that happened to them.

3. Future Researchers

There are some aspects which can be analyzed about misspelling in English language written other than the types of misspelling and the causes of misspelling. So, it is expected that the other researchers can analyze the new thing about misspelling and the result of this study may be used as early information to conduct further researches and make this research as one of a reference for them.