

BAB V

CLOSURE

A. Conclusion

From the explanation of the previous chapter, the researcher drew some conclusions as a result of analyzing the impact of students' native accents on their English speaking as follows:

1. Researcher found that native accent exerts an impact on a person's English speaking, especially if the accent is very heavy and the person cannot naturalize the native accent when speaking English, it will be more clearly seen how the impact of a person's native accent on changes in English speaking such as mispronunciation of words, intonation pattern of speech including the suppression of a word, as well as the speed of speech and the accuracy of pauses / stops in sentences.
2. The researcher found there are several aspects of English-speaking that are impacted by native accent as follows:

- a. Pronunciation

In this aspect, the study shows that there is an impact on pronunciation aspects such as changes / differences in pronunciation of words; mispronunciation caused by native accents and also differences of the stress and intonation patterns.

b. Fluency

In this aspect, the study shows that there is an impact on the aspect of Fluency of English speaking due to native accent such as the pause of speech and the flow of speech.

c. Comprehension

In this aspect, the study shows that there is an impact on the aspect of English speaking comprehension due to the native accent if one of the aspects or both the aspects of pronunciation and fluency has an impact caused by the native accent but if from both aspects of pronunciation and fluency is not impacted then in the aspect of English speaking comprehension will not impacted.

B. Suggestion

As explained earlier, this study analyzed the impact of students' native accents on their English speaking. Then the researcher provides the following suggestions:

1. Suggestion for Lecturer, the lecturer hopes to be able to provide more theory about accents because this is also closely related to English speaking students which is important to know.
2. Suggestions for Students, Students are expected to continue learning in order to get the desired results for the ability to speak English, namely being able to speak English like native English speakers although by having factors that can inhibit them such as heavy native accents but it is not something that cannot be changed / adjusted as described in the previous discussion although actually the essence of English speaking is the existence of meaningful communication can be understood and in line.

3. Suggestion for Researcher, for other researchers, it is expected to learn more about accents and speaking and their relation including small parts of both. Other researchers can also associate this topic with more complex discussions such as sociolinguistic. Finally, researcher hope next researcher will more well prepare before the research and more expert about the topic will research. Hopefully, the researcher hopes that this research can provide benefits for anyone who has an interest in linguistic problems that should be considered ordinary even though it is very influential on the advancement of knowledge.
