

CHAPTER V

CLOSURE

This chapter contains conclusions and suggestions of the study. The conclusion presents the results of the analysis conducted in the previous chapter. This chapter ends with suggestions for readers and further research on field studies.

A. Conclusion

The purpose of this research is to analyze the types of grammatical errors that the Grammar Nazi corrects on the @englishbusters Instagram account and to identify any patterns in the types of errors that are left uncorrected. Based on the analysis of research data on the types of errors using Communicative Effect Taxonomy, several important conclusions must be noted, as follows:

1. The errors in the captions corrected by @englishbusters can be classified into two types: local errors and global errors. Local errors included errors in spelling (orthographical errors), word choice (lexical errors), word forms (morphological errors), and sentence structure (syntactical errors), while global errors consisted of errors in the order of major constituents and the missing cues to signal obligatory exceptions to pervasive syntactic rules.

2. There are still several local errors in various influencer captions that were not corrected by @englishbusters, including orthographical, lexical, morphological, and syntactical errors. This proves that @englishbusters overlooked some aspects of the errors made by influencers.

B. Suggestion

Considering the result of this research, the researcher suggests;

1. As an influencer, it is important to recheck the captions they write in English. It can help to ensure accuracy, clarity, professionalism, engagement, and brand representation.
2. It is suggested to @englishbusters to review all aspects of writing, including grammar, punctuation, style, and tone, to ensure that the message is conveyed clearly and effectively.
3. It is important for the audience to avoid assuming that all corrections are valid, and instead take the time to seek clarification to ensure their validity.
4. To improve writing skills in all aspects, it is recommended for individuals or accounts who act as Grammar Nazis to correct or revise grammatical errors on social media to do so consistently, rather than focusing on only one aspect.
