

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION

This section presents the research results and recommendations. The conclusions answer the research questions, as well as recommendations for improving teachers, prospective teachers, and related research.

A. Conclusion

Based on the research question, the conclusion of this research can be stated as below:

1. The method that teacher used in teaching writing for autism students are VAKT method, drilling method and ABA method.
2. The challenges that the teacher faced during teaching writing for autism students are limited visual aids because of limited school funds, control students' meal that can cause their mood and not many training for autism students comprehensively.

B. Suggestion

After the explanation of the result and the conclusion, there are some suggestion that researcher explain as below:

1. Teacher for Autism Students

The researcher hopes that teacher after reading this research have a reference about the method for teaching autism students and can prepare how to solve the challenges that might be faced when they teach autism students and also they more motivate to be a teacher for autism students.

2. Educational institution

The researcher hopes educational institution can consider to held more training especially for teacher that teach autism students. The training itself is comprehensive, so the teacher from every school can show and share to each other various method in teaching autism students.

3. The next research

The researcher suggests that further research be conducted on the same topic about teaching autism students in different area such as teaching reading, listening or speaking. And the future research can also conduct a research about the strategies in the method that the teacher used in teaching autism students.