

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTION

A. Conclusion

Based on the research results, the researcher found that most agree that Johnny's Communication Center content could be used for vocabulary learning. And, based on current trends, students require a variety of learning media, which increases their desire to expand their vocabulary. The researcher found that learners try to find out the difficult words but there are some learners who did not find it.

The researcher found that much of the participant watched Johnny's Communication Center with friends. And if they found any difficult vocabulary they searched on Google Translate or dictionary.

The researcher found the positive and negative effects while watching Johnny's Communication Center for learning media. The positive effect is students' more enthusiasm for learning, and the negative effect is students cannot manage their time well.

Based on the findings and discussion, it can be concluded that:

1. K-pop Idol's YouTube video content (Johnny's Communication Center) can be a learning media for enriching English vocabulary.
2. The interview participant found that YouTube video content is effective in learning and improves also enriching English vocabulary. Improving the vocabulary by using Idol's YouTube video content (Johnny's Communication Center) will be good tools for enriching student's English vocabulary. The student's more creative also increase their interest in English learning because the media is easy to find and students can learn anywhere and anytime. The students are easy to understand because students can see the facial expression, the gesture, and the information of physical background additionally given. When asked whether Johnny's Communication Center had no negative impact almost all participants answered there no negative effect. Because the conversation on Johnny's Communication Center video is suitable and very interesting for enriching vocabulary. The result youtube can help student to learning something new, like English especially for enriching English vocabulary. Youtube also give interesting content for student. From participant explanation youtube can help to improving English vocabulary.

B. Suggestion

Here are suggestion the researcher delivers for future studies. Hopelly, the suggestions are useful for readers in general, and researchers and other people involved in education specially. The suggestion are as follows:

1. For English learner

The researcher suggest that learning English in this era is easily because many fun media learning. The English learner just have to know what the interested learning media for them.

2. For other researchers

The researcher hopes this study could give insight to the readers and students of the English Education Department or other departments of UIN Antasari Banjarmasin.

In addition, the researcher suggests to other researcher who are interest in the same study to eximine using K-pop Idol's Youtube Video Content for Enriching English Vocabulary for example, an article in writing class, speaking class, or listening class.