

CHAPTER V

CLOSURE

A. Conclusions

Based on the analysis in the previous chapter it can be concluded that:

1. Translation strategies applied by eleventh grade students of MAN 5 Marabahan in translating narrative text are adaptation, addition, literal translation, modulation, subtraction, and transposition.
2. The most frequent strategy that used by eleventh grade students of MAN 5 Marabahan in translating narrative text is transposition. It was used by students about 86 times.

B. Suggestions

As a closing report of this research, the writer would like to contribute some suggestions to be hopefully considered as a good input for further learning of translating. The suggestions from the writer as follows:

1. The translator should have sufficient knowledge of source language and target language when translating the text, so that, the translator can translate the text accurately
2. In translating a text, the translators should not translate word by word. They should consider the whole sense and communicate the message of the text..
