

CHAPTER IV

CLOSURE

A. Conclusions

1. Laughter-causing utterances that found in the Stand-up Comedy Show in Melbourne Comedy Festival, Australia by Trevor Noah are 49 in total among others are: And you stop to sit there, "No no you are great, really", They said "twenty-four hours", and So, that's not delayed, that's cancelation.
2. The factors of laughter-causing utterances that found in the Stand-up Comedy Show in Melbourne Comedy Festival, Australia by Trevor Noah are implicature, language and word, assumption, culture, simile and metaphor, interrogative words and sentences, oxymoron, exclamation, rhetorical question, hyperbole, self-mockery, analogy.
3. Laughter-causing utterances that found in the Stand-up Comedy Show in Melbourne Comedy Festival by Trevor Noah are funny because the natural betrayal that happened in the utterances.

B. Suggestions

1. For learners, the writer suggests learning English with the culture of Speaking English Countries, because generally it will help much in understanding English since the language is the part of the culture.
2. For teachers, the writer suggests teaching English through humor, because it will make the learning English more fun and the understanding of the students can be assessed from whether they laugh or not.