

CHAPTER V

CLOSURE

This chapter discuss about the conclusion of this research regarding the analysis of washback effect of formative assessment to the teacher and the students tenth grade at SMAIT Ukhuwah Banjarmasin year 2019/2020. Furthermore, this chapter also contains the suggestions regarding the researcher for the teacher, the students and the next researchers.

A. Conclusion

Based on the result, the researcher considered that both the teacher and the students' perception toward the test were positive because of the benefits that teacher got. While the washback effect on students in this research could be seen and described based on positive and negative effect due to the benefits that students got and from the anxiety that experienced by the students.

A. Suggestion

Based on the results of the study, there are some suggestions that can be offered by the researcher to certain parties who correlated with this term, washback. This suggestion is expected to be useful for the English teacher, the students and the next researchers.

B. Suggestion

Based on the results of the study, there are some suggestions that can be offered by the researcher to certain parties who correlated with this term, washback. This suggestion is expected to be useful for the English teacher, the students and the next researchers.

1. The English Teacher

It would be better if the glossary of English could be shared by the teacher earlier in a certain time, like three days before test in every test. Giving the glossary in an exact time for every facing test will be so beneficial for students, so that students can manage their time exactly because some students mentioned that they were found little hardness in managing their time, because they do not know when the exact time the teacher will give them the glossary.

2. The Students

The teaching and learning process will be more effective if the communication in the class was used English in all aspects of activities. The students should try to get more familiar with many English words so that when teacher explain the material and do communication in English, the students can get understanding thoroughly.

3. The Next Researcher

The result of this research is expected to be used as consideration or preview for the next researcher in doing the same field of the reeseach with the different object of the research.