

CHAPTER V

CLOSURE

A. Conclusions

After conducting research with the applicable procedures, this research resulted in conclusions as the answers of the problem statement in this research. The conclusions are:

1. Annur tahfizh house has not a special method for memorizing the Quran, but there has a same pattern or steps in the process of this activity and the purposed pattern is the talqîn method in general. However, it does not rule out that sometimes there are some improvisations that the teacher adds according to the needs of the students in each learning group that applied by the teachers
2. The murâja'ah system applied by Annur tahfizh house divided into several options in its implementation, are:
 - a. Murâja'ah which carried out with friends or teachers.
 - b. Murâja'ah which used as homework for the students.

Then, the students murâja'ah target has been arranged and predetermined by the teacher at every meeting either on the special day of murâja'ah neither on ordinary learning days.

The timing of these activities adjusted to the directions from the teachers of each group both before the learning begins and afterward while waiting for time to go home. This tahfizh house also has a special day for repeating the lessons of both the taḥsîn tartily banjary and the Quran memorization of the students which is called the special day of murâja'ah that set at every 5th learning meeting and its multiples.

B. Suggestions

Based on the conclusions described above, the author needs to make some suggestions as follows:

1. According to the author, there are still many deficiencies in this research because this research only discusses about the memorization method applied in the Annur tahfizh house and how the murâja'ah activity there. This research does not discuss further about the effectiveness of the method and other matters.
2. For further researchers who want to research with the same object is the Annur tahfizh house, they can direct the research's focus to other aspects because there are still many things that can be researched, such as the tahsîn method that applied there or about the effectiveness of the memorizing method or the others.
3. For the management of Annur tahfizh house, to further develop the ways in the process of memorizing the Quran and develop the governance in the process of muraja'ah such as completing the target achievement of memorization at Adult class in the standardization module book and hold regular training in improving and uniform the memorizing and muraja'ah method so that teachers are more focused in teaching-learning activities.
