In the time of the Prophet Muhammad Shallallahu'alaihi wa Sallam. There was no systematic method for memorising the Qur'an; the Prophet and his companions memorised the Qur'an one verse at a time to preserve its integrity. However, that was a long time ago; nowadays, several methods may be developed to determine the most effective strategy for memorisation. Utilising the proper memorisation method is one strategy to make the memorisation process easy and structured.

Students who memorise the Qur'an must be active to maintain their memorisation of the Qur'an; however, they must also conduct thalab al-'ilmi. Since there were other activities besides memorising the Qur'an, the intensity of repeating the memorisation of the Qur'an is reduced; this is one of the reasons why memorisers of the Qur'an forget previously memorised material. Repetition of the level of memorisation determines memorisation level, not to mention maintaining memorisation and maintaining memorisation to attain the mutqin level.

This research intended to determine the pattern of Qur'an memorisation and ways or strategies to maintain memorisation attain the level of mutqin of the students at Pondok Tahfizh Yanbu'ul Qur'an 4 Pantai Cabe, Tapin Regency. This study employed a field research type, utilising a qualitative approach and research-related data collection techniques involving observation, interviews, tests and documentation.

The results of this study indicate that Pondok Tahfizh Yanbu'ul Qur'an 4 uses the Yanbu'a method in learning to read and write and memorise the Qur'an. This cottage has a pattern of memorising the Qur'an which is carried out in several stages, namely: before beginning the activity of reading or memorising the Qur'an, all students are required to possess tawasul. In addition, praying and improving the reading of the Qur'an verses according to tajwid rules, also known as tahsin al-qira'ah (learn how to read Qur'an correctly based on the rules). Furthermore, students must read Qur'an verses until they employ the bi al-Nazhar method (by looking at the manuscripts). Subsequently, deposited the memorisation using the bi al-ghaib method (without viewing the manuscripts) with one teacher in a small group, also known as halaqah. Lastly, the students add to their memorisation of the Qur'an (ziyadah) by adhering to the memorisation pattern. Students at this boarding school employed muraja'ah, group mudarasah, and mudarasah by sima'an/tasmi to maintain their memorisation to attain the mutqin level.
