

CHAPTER V

CLOSURE

This chapter presents the conclusions and suggestions of this research. Conclusions are obtained from the results of the study, while suggestions are taken from recommendations from researchers who have been read by researchers related to this research.

A. Conclusion

1. The uses of YouTube to teach English vocabulary

The vocabulary learning techniques contained in the use of YouTube as a vocabulary learning medium are as follows, Visually, Aurally, Explanation, and Picture.

2. The advantages and disadvantages of using YouTube to teach vocabulary.

The advantages and disadvantages of using YouTube as a vocabulary learning medium are as follows. The advantage of using YouTube as a learning medium is that Youtube is able to make students more focused on paying attention. Meanwhile, the weakness of using YouTube as a learning medium is the problem of internet networks which are still relatively expensive, and need a good internet network.

B. Suggestion

Researchers Have some suggestions to readers after doing this research. Hopefully it can help readers and future researchers to be better when doing research in the same field.

The importance of vocabulary for those who are still in junior high school to learn. For those who can speak English well, they must have a lot of vocabulary first.

For teachers, the use of technology at this time is very much needed and must be utilized from all social media that can be used as teaching materials.

For students, they must be independent and have responsibility for themselves. Especially now that we are faced with a pandemic period where we are required to study independently at home. By using social media, YouTube can access various kinds of learning.