Gender differences affect a person's communication style from various aspects, one of which is in the choice of words, phrases, or sentences. The purpose of this research is to find out about communication styles of male students, what are the communication styles of female students and what are the differences in communication styles between male and female students. This research can also help teachers to find out the communication style of their students so that they can increase students' strengths and help students' deficiencies in the learning process.
