TOEFL is very important in measuring a person's language skills. In fact, many agencies use the TOEFL as a requirement for recruiting workers and also as a requirement for students to continue their education to a higher level. Unfortunately, the TOEFL test also costs quite a lot, especially if students have not reached the desired target, they have to take the TOEFL test many times. That is why this research aims to collect and explain some free digital resources that students can use to help them study the TOEFL material so that they are better prepared when they want to take the test. This research is a qualitative research. The research method is Content Analysis with documentation as the technique of collecting data. The result of this study show that there are many digital learning resources that students can use to prepare themselves before taking TOEFL test. Among them are website (ExamEnglish.com and GrammarBank.com), Youtube Channel (BenPinter, Andrian Permadi, and Yanto Tanjung), and also some mobile applications (Soal TOEFL Structure dan Pembahasan and English Grammar Book). Moreover, these sources are really helpful to achieve a maximum score of TOEFL test.
