

CHAPTER V

CLOSURE

In this chapter, the researcher presents conclusions and suggestions. Then the researcher weighed all the findings, discussions, and conclusions from this study regarding YouTube channels which could be used as a reference for learning public speaking, where researchers took video samples from each of the YouTube channels that had been studied.

A. Conclusion

In this concluding part, the researcher presents several conclusions with descriptions that can be concluded as follows :

In this study, there are 4 public speaking channels that can be used as learning references for students and teachers to serve as teaching materials or teaching in class. The channels that have been studied are channels that provide examples of true public speaking by the 11 public speaking competencies that are the reference of this research. In this research, the channels are Tedx Talk, Toastmasters, English Speeches, and Public Speaking Academy Pte Ltd Channel. Moreover, for each of these channels the researcher has examined 3 videos that can be used as a reference for learning public speaking, namely from the speakers are Sandy Bravo, Elle Davis, Emily Jaenson, Josephine Lee, Mahathir bin Mohammed, Cyril Junior dim, Shereen Salama, Sona Azem, Satya Nadella, Benjamin, Dylan Edward, and Tvisha Badhu.

B. Suggestion

According to the results of the conclusions above, that have been concluded by the researcher, the researcher suggests that :

1. English Lecturer

From the several findings that have been researched in this study, lecturers can make several channels and videos in this research as a reference for learning public speaking in class so that learning public speaking can increase for students who want to improve their public speaking skills. In addition, the use of the YouTube channel as a medium for learning public speaking can be an additional reference for teachers to provide broader knowledge and insights about public speaking in class.

2. English Students

For students who want to improve their skills and techniques in public speaking, this research can be used as a reference to learn more about public speaking, which the YouTube channel on YouTube media has many references to learning public speaking that can be used as examples.

3. Further Research

For future researchers, this research can be used as the next reference where future researchers can develop public speaking challenges with different media or with different channels and videos because there are lots of channels on YouTube that can be used for further research and media. others that can be used as further public speaking research.