

CHAPTER V

CLOSURE

A. Conclusion

Based on the results, it can be concluded that English education department Banjarese students have good ability in reading words that contain phonological processes with a percentage of 15.13%, which falls within the percentage range <25% so it can be concluded that the predicate which is owned by the English education department of Banjarese students is very good with letters grade "A

B. Suggestions

1. For English Education Lecturers, it is recommended to teach material about phonological processes to students as a new knowledge.
2. For the students, from the finding it can be seen that there are still many students who still have wrong pronunciation of words. So I hope students can pay attention to the length of the letters, intonation, and how to pronounce them correctly.
3. For other research, it is hoped that there will be other studies that are the same as this but with different subjects, a larger number of samples and also a larger list of words.
