ABSTRACT

Aida Agustiani. 1601241743. An Analysis of Illocutionary Acts in Muniba Mazari's Inspirational Speech in 2018. Hidayah Nor, M.Pd at English Education Department. Faculty of Tarbiyah and Teacher Training, Antasari State Islamic University. 2023.

Keyword : Speech, Illocutionary Acts.

Illocutionary acts are actions that will be performed according to the speech or meaning understood by the listener. Based on Searle's theory, there are five types of illocutionary acts namely representatives, expressives, commissives, declaratives and directives.

This study discussed illocutionary speech acts in Muniba Mazari's inspirational speech. The purpose of this study is to find out the types and the most dominant type of illocutionary acts in the speech. This study used a qualitative descriptive research type because the data is in the form of speech. The instrument of this research are observation and recorded. The method of collecting the data was the observational method and non-participatory technique. In analyzing the data, the researcher used Searle's theory.

The results showed that there were 139 utterances containing illocutionary acts. The data were classified into five; representatives 73 (52.51%), directives 30 (21.57%), declaratives 8 (5.75%), commissives 10 (7.19%), expressives 18 (13%). Therefore, it can be concluded that representatives speech acts are illocutionary speech acts that appear most dominant in the speech. It is because in her speech, she often tells, describes and states to the audience what has happened to her life that has made her what she is today.
