

CHAPTER V

CLOSURE

A. Conclusion

Based on the analysis of the Dive Studio Podcast, this research has drawn significant conclusions regarding the posed research questions.

1. This study identified four types of language styles present in Dive Studio Podcast, the language style that found in this podcast are: 9 datum of formal style, 40 datum of casual style, 8 datum of consultative style, and 3 datum of intimate style.
2. This study found that the most dominant language style in Dive Studio Podcast is the casual style, with a total of 40 of 60 datum. This style creates an impression of informal, friendly, and audience-engaging conversations.

B. Suggestion

1. English teachers and language education institutions are encouraged to integrate podcasts with diverse language styles into their curriculum. By providing real-world language examples for a deeper understanding of communication dynamics. This approach enhances students' language proficiency and prepares them for linguistic challenges in various contexts.
2. For students in the English Education Department, this research not only encourages exploration and understanding of various language styles within academic settings but also advocates the practical application of these styles in everyday communication. Such an approach is crucial for enhancing their proficiency and versatility in English language usage, contributing significantly to their overall language education and communication skills.

3. For other researcher, it consider the impact of technology on communication, providing valuable insights for researcher studying contemporary language use. This also can contribute to a more comprehensive understanding of language use in various communication settings.