Mengapa tidak pergi dari tiap-tiap golongan di antara mereka beberapa orang untuk memperdalam pengetahuan mereka tentang agama dan untuk memberi peringatan kepada kaumnya apabila mereka telah kembali kepadanya, supaya mereka itu dapat menjaga dirinya.	And it is not for the believers to go forth [to battle] all at once. For there should separate from every division of them a group [remaining] to obtain understanding in the religion and warn [i.e., advise] their people when they return to them that they might be cautious

1. Alfi Elisa Apriliani

Hi, my name is Alfi Elisa Apriliani, but people like to call me Alfi. But in the big family, I am often called Elisa. I am someone who is simple and able to express something about myself. I like the sky, fruit and animals, except snakes and caterpillars. I like myself as I should be. I don't like heights and even have a phobia of them. When I see something like an illusion from a height, my legs will go weak.

I'm a person who doesn't really like to be serious but also doesn't like to joke. I mean when I ask something serious then one of the people answers with a joke and yeah I will definitely get angry. But from all that I love myself for who I am, with the way I convey my emotions to other people.

I also like the friends I have, slowly I can understand and understand their characters one by one. I like meeting and getting to know new people and then we share experiences with each other. I also really like it and don't even hesitate to say that you are all great, you all deserve all the good things on this earth. I like everything about myself and I accept it all.

2. Ahmad Hafiz Anshari

I'm a regular person who has a desire to have fun and get rid of boring things. Being a student in a university is a very long process until you graduate, Especially when your parents put pressure on you. But, that doesn't imply to me because my parents have only one desire for me to go to college, By graduating regularly. They never tell me to graduate early or to graduate as the best student, Which is why I'm not as stressed as most of my friends who went to different universities. They are just grateful that I could be a college student whether I can graduate on time or late. While in the other hand, My friends told me that they were stressed out about their assignments and that their parents were expecting high accomplishments in college from their children. I can only hope that my parents wouldn't do the same and that my friends could go through their hard times.

I'm currently in my third semester, doing my assignments and preparing for midterms even though it's hard. I find that most of the assignments are getting harder and harder each semester. But, I always found new ways to not get stressed from it, and try to enjoy it while I am still in college. And because it seems impossible for me to complete a task or assignment with perfection, I tend to come into two climaxes, which are to enjoy it or to complete it under pressure. But I will never give up on my assignments as long as it is possible to do, And because of one quote from my favorite movie that made me never give up on anything. Forrest Gump said “My mama always said life was like a box of chocolates. You never know what you're gonna get.”.

After graduating I entered Antasari Islamic University Banjarmasin and now I am in the 3rd semester.

I'm the type of person who prefers quiet, but that doesn't mean I'm an introvert. I would rather have a few friends who are quality and trustworthy than to have a lot of friends who don't mean anything. I am a person who likes and wants to know other people's opinions about me so that I can improve myself and be better in the future.

10. Mutia

I'm Mutia, people call me Tia, Imut, or Mumut usually. I was born on September 16 2003, and now I am 20 years old. I still live in Gudang Hiranng with my mother and stepfather. Actually, I have 2 younger siblings and also 1 half-sister, but my 2 younger siblings live with my father and stepmother in Palangka Raya, while my younger half-sister lives with my stepfather's ex-wife. So I became the only child at home.

I have many hobbies, I like drawing, dancing, watching movies, listening to music, and playing guitar. I also have new hobbies sometimes, I like trying new things, and doing something when I'm in the mood or want to. Sometimes I also like sewing, making handicrafts from used accessories that I no longer use.

There's not much that can be said about me actually. Apart from the hobbies I mentioned, I don't have many memories that I can talk about. I prefer to stay in my own room, spending time doing various activities that I want. Even though on campus I look cheerful and very enthusiastic when I'm with my friends, I'm actually an introvert who likes to be alone.

By the way, I actually had no intention of going to college, I was the type of person who had difficulty communicating so I felt lazy about socializing with lots of people. My grades were also mediocre, but my mother asked me to go to college. She said that she wanted her only daughter to have a high education and become successful one day.

Because of that, I chose to go to college. I choose the major that I want and that suits my abilities. I also try to be more open and social with people, study hard to achieve my mother's dream, and my dream of exploring the world, doing lots of new things with my mother.

11. Rahil Aulia

My name is Rahil Aulia, usually called Aau, Rahil, Ahel and many more. I am the first of three children. Let me explain about my family. My family consists of my father, he works as a merchant every day he sells. My mother is an ordinary housewife, sometimes she helps my father sell, and she really likes cooking, lately she often sells her cooking.

I'm the oldest child and I'm still in college. Rahmi, she is my first sister, she is cute because she has a dimple on her right cheek and now she is in grade 6 elementary school, sometimes I often fight with her. Gina, she's the youngest. She is very playful. When I was little, I used to stay at my grandfather's house. My parents are a bit strict parents.

My name means “journey” and “guardian”. When combined it becomes Journey of the guardians. My teacher said “your name means travel, you like to travel”. Huh! even though I don't like traveling except inside the house. When the house is quiet the habit I do is running around in the house from childhood until now. And another thing I do when there is no activity is watching anime or western movies, without forgetting my obligations as an Islamic person, namely worship. My favorite foods are many and there are always vegetables, the vegetables I like the most are cabbage, carrots and tomatoes. I really like eating ice cubes or ice flowers in the refrigerator.

12. Nur Latifah

My name is Nur Latifah, people usually call me Ifah or Latifah. I was born in Tanah Laut, December 2nd, 2003. Now I'm 19 years old. My hobby is listening music. I've a little brother, his name is Rasyid. So, I'm the oldest. I'm a college student at Antasari State Islamic University. Now, I study at English Education Department.

Since middle school, I've liked English subject so here I am. But, before I came here, I never thought about majoring in English Education. Previously, I thought about majoring in International Relations or majoring in Korean Language and Culture. But unfortunately, I didn't get permission to study outside the island of Kalimantan.

Since entering this campus, I've thought that this is indeed my best destiny according to God. At first I cried, but now I really enjoy and I'm grateful to be able to study at this campus. Through this campus I met many people who colored my days. Even, through this campus I was able to get a job at the age of only 19 years.

Apart from being a student, I'm now an English teacher for elementary school children at PPRSAR Mulia Satria, Banjarbaru. I really enjoy my job now. Meeting my students is like a medicine to relieve fatigue when the world of lectures is tiring. Although, it turns out that teaching elementary school children is not an easy thing, especially for me who has never had any previous experience. Only with courage and the support of those closest to me.

Speaking of support from those closest to me, my parents are always at the forefront in supporting me. They're always with me in every first step I take in doing something. Even though my parents are typical parents who are indifferent and rarely show attention, I can feel that my parents are always there under any circumstances. I hope that one day I'll be like my parents in a better version

13. Erlina Noor Khofifah

A little girl who was born and raised in Banjarmasin, specifically on the island of South Kalimantan, where I had a happy childhood with my beloved parents and a sibling. Since birth, I was given the name Erlina Noor Khofifah, with "Erlina" that meaning "peace". I just turned 19 years old on the last September. I live with my parents and one sibling, and I am the second child in the family, commonly known as the youngest.

From a young age, I was curious about the world around me and I loved to explore everything, especially the art. My known MBTI personality type is ENTP, known for being energetic. As I get older, I become more aware of my strengths and weaknesses, my desires, and fears. I found that I was good at listening and socialize with others, but also struggled with selfdoubt, fear of rejection and judgment from the others, and especially anxiety or panic attacks, which I still experience frequently until now. Besides that, I realized that I really enjoy learning languages, listening to music and watching movies or series that suit to my tastes, dressing up nicely, trying new foods, which are my types of fun.

Speaking of myself, who likes music and watching movies, I am the typical person who likes historical movies. The last series I watched was a historical fiction drama with the titled “Bridgerton”, which tells the story of how society lives with the highest social class people or conglomerates with their love stories and with drama seasoning, such as “diamond in this season”, which is the headline of this series. As for music, I like various genres, not just listening to Western songs. Since I was young, my older brother always influenced me with many Western movies or music and things that I didn’t know before at that time. Those things made me interested in learning more about myself.

16. Jauza Tabitha Nur Arafah

Hi everyone, here I wanna tell you a little story about my childhood. But firstly let me introduce my self. So, my name is Jauza Tabitha Nur Arafah, many nicknames that I have, like, Jaz, Bitha, Ara, or Jauza. But many of them called me Jaz. I was born in Cirebon, 5th of March. And i'm the first daughter from 3 siblings.

As the first daughter, of course I can feel the feeling of being spoiled by my parents. Whatever I want, my parents always obey it. However, being the first child is not always that easy. I am used to living a disciplined life, because my parents' teachings were quite strict. I was also taught to dare to be responsible in taking action, that's why, since I was little, I have had the courage to travel alone without the supervision of my parents. Once in an incident at a mall in the city of Palembang (because I had moved around cities since I was little), I was separated several floors from my parents. They were on the 3rd floor, while I was still on the 1st floor. For a 5 year old child, it's natural for them to cry if accidentally gets separated from their parents in a crowd, but I'm not the type who panics and cries easily. With the instincts of an active child, I became interested in a transparent object that was moving up and down (which I eventually discovered was called an elevator). Because it looked fun, I looked for where the door was, so I could take the elevator.

While I was waiting to get into the elevator, it turned out that a security guard was watching me. Then the security guard asked if I was alone, and if not, where were my parents. I said if I had lost track of my parents and intended to take the elevator to each floor to look for them. The security guard seemed surprised by my casual narrative. Then he asked again, “Aren’t you afraid of being separated from your parents in the middle of a crowd and in a mall this big?” I answered, “no, because I’m sure they won’t leave me”. Due to safety reasons, the security guard finally helped me get into the elevator and press the buttons which for me at that time was something very interesting.

Long story short, I finally managed to find my parents. It turned out they were also waiting for me at the information center. I approached my mother whose face was pale with an innocent smile. My father, who was used to this, looked relaxed, laughed and praised me for being brave. That’s the story of my childhood that I want to tell this time. Of all my childhood mischief, I am quite proud of the habit of being responsible for every decision I make, because it turned out to really affect my teenage life, where I was being relaxed when I was away from my parents, not get stressed easily, and many more, who make me praised got raised that well from my parents

18. Rizqi Amaliah

I started this essay with a selfintroduction. Rizqi Amaliah, that's the name my parents gave me 18 years ago. I was born in Simpang Empat on November 9, 2004, which is 19 years old this year. I was raised by my parents with all the sufficiency provided by my parents. My father's name is Abdul Rasyid and my mother's name is Mardiana. I am the second child of 3 siblings, I have 1 older sister named Rizqi Awaliah who is currently working on her proposal. and 1 younger brother named Ahmad Rizky Adha, who is currently in grade 3 of elementary school. Since junior high school, I have not lived with my parents because my parents sent me to an Islamic boarding school in Tanah Bumbu, specifically in Kersik Putih. Then in high school, I chose to continue my education at an Islamic boarding school because, in my opinion, I needed to learn a lot about religion so that I could understand and know the boundaries that exist in religion and so that in the future I would not take the wrong path.

Even now, I have to migrate to study in Banjarmasin. It turns out that living far from my parents and family has made me grow into an independent person. firm in making decisions, and competent in managing everything starting from small things such as managing time to managing finances. and also makes me more responsible with the choices I make. Even though I sometimes feel jealous of people who can enjoy more time with their families, my parents continue to pray for me and convince me that I will be successful someday. And my parents always said that to encourage me to continue to be enthusiastic about going through the world of college.

Currently, I am in my 3rd semester in the English Education Department of UIN Antasari Banjarmasin and this is where I have started to feel how the world of college starts from assignments, organizations, friendships, and others. Even though I am sometimes overwhelmed by the endless assignments given by the lecturers, I have to be able to get through all of this seriously because this has become my choice and I have to be able to prove that I can be successful to my parents. Apart from being active in lectures, I also try to join organizations that I think can hone my soft skills. And it's true that in the organization I found a lot of experiences, relationships, and other things which I think were my achievements while I was a student and of course useful for me in the future when I'm no longer a student.

On the other hand, amidst the many tasks and organizations that I am involved in, I am very grateful to have met friends who really support each other.

Some say that the world of lectures is evil in friendship, but I don't think so here, because it all comes back to ourselves how we can accept the nature and character of each other's friends. And one more thing, I always pray that my friends and I can be successful and continue to be together until graduation

19. SEPTIA NAJRIAH

My Abilities

My name is Septia Najriah. Usually my family and my friends call me Tia. I was born in Banjarmasin, South Kalimantan. I am the second child of two siblings, my father's name is Suriani and my mother's name is Sahidah, and my brother's name is Syahridani, the age gap with my brother is about 7 years. This time I will tell you about my abilities and hobbies.

At the time when I was 3 years old I was very interested in coloring, I always liked everything about coloring. When I go to the market with my mother I always buy drawing books and colored pencils. Before I entered kindergarten I had participated in coloring competitions even though I had not yet won the championship and when I entered kindergarten I always participated in coloring competitions as high as Banjarbaru city and always won the competition carrying a trophy and some money, and I usually spend the money I get to buy more coloring books and colored pencils.

When I entered elementary school, I still took part in coloring competitions, but my love for coloring decreased a little, I focused more on dancing regional dances, but at that time the dances that were performed were only during school farewells and did not involve participating in competitions. When I was in junior high school I felt that dancing was not my favorite. I didn't choose the dance extracurricular at that time, but I chose the knitting extracurricular, but during the year I attended that extracurricular I felt bored and I switched to the extracurricular making sasirangan and I followed it until the end of the meeting, I really enjoyed every lesson.

When I was in high school, I decided to enter a boarding school. There I took part in the Calligraphy extracurricular because I wanted to continue my previous passion, but it turned out that Calligraphy was more difficult than I imagined and I chose not to continue. I also join English course with my friends and there I could learn a lot, especially about Grammar. While I entered college, I joined an organization where part of my rest time was used for the organization but not infrequently I also still like to play sports. Until now, I always like playing badminton in my free time or on holidays.

20. Siti Namiratul Azkia

ABOUT MY SELF

Let me introduce myself, my name complete is Siti Namiratul Azkia, I normally called Namira. I'm originally from Tabalong or normally known with Tanjung, I'm from Muara Uya village. I born in Tabalong 26 February 2004 and now currently step on the age of 18 and of course 3 months to front will step on 19 years old, I really no realized time passed so quickly, I think yesterday I was about to turn 7 years old, 12 years old, and of course 17 years old. The age of 17 is the most eagerly awaited by teenagers, it is said at that age he is considered an adult and can take responsibility for himself and everything he does. However in fact, now age is of course only case numbers that do not determine whether someone is emotionally mature but only physically mature.

On 6 years old I started formal education at Miftahussa'adah Kindergarten(2009-2010), then continued to Madrasah Islamiyah level (2010-2016), after completing studying at Madrasah Islamiyah I decided to continue my education junior high school and senior high school at the Al-Madaniyah Islamic Boarding School for 6 years consecutively (2016-2022). After successfully studying at the Islamic boarding school, in the early days after graduating from Islamic boarding school, there were many dreams that I plan want to do A want to be B want become successful figure. To make all this happen, I decided to continue my education at college high was of course supported by my family and those closest to me, when I started to want to pursue my education by applying to various universities certainly had many obstacles, challenges, and life lessons that I got, these things taught me “That I can't get everything, not all dreams can come true well and smoothly, there are many sacrifices, many things that must be given up and accepted”. In the end I did destined by Allah SWT for go through Education

College High at UIN Antasari Banjarmasin majoring in English Education (2022-present).I was born as the first daughter from a partner of Arif Rahman Hakim is a trader and Raudah Hasanah is a housewife (but often mother always and almost never never absent from helping father in running his business). I have a younger siblingThe woman is Rifda Alya Nabila, currently studying at a Madrasah Islamiyah Bangkar in 5th grade. I have a small family who always supports their children in terms of education, my family always taught me to be independent or not spoiled & always depend on self myself, especially my father doesn't like his children to be spoiled, I think in the past father is very strict and so hard, doesn't father love his child? And now after I migrated from my hometown to achieve my dream, I just realized everything that adviced to me from parents, "That life cannot always rely on other people, we are required to be independent, strong, resilient. Life is struggle, nothing is instant and easy on this earth". And I am very grateful to be born from this small family, though not always celebrated but they always celebrate small things in different ways. Maybe that's enough of a short story of my life, thank you.

21. Ulfa Mardhea

Let me introduce myself, my name is Ulfa Mardhea, you can call me Dhea, Dey, Dhe, Ulfa and Mardhe. but I also like being called a cat. I was born on June 26 2003 in the morning before dawn. Actually, it wasn't my parents who gave me my name but my uncle and aunt because previously they wanted to adopt me, but my parents rejected it. Since I was little, I have been a very active, brave child and can't stay still at all. such as often climbing windows, playing outside the house without knowing the time, likes challenges and new things.

I remember when I went to Taman Murjani in Banjarbaru, there were 2 monkeys loose and I casually approached them and finally the monkeys jumped at me and scratched my back. I didn't cry and just laughed, then my parents who saw the incident immediately panicked and immediately treated my back with antiseptic medicine. After that incident, I was proud to tell the incident to my teacher and my friends and I don't think this incident is a shameful incident, but I think this is a very proud incident

Apart from liking challenges, I also like new things, such as my current hobby, namely modern dance or K-pop dance. I think dancing is a very enjoyable thing for me because the fact is that when I dance all my problems disappear instantly. Dance also helps me with the diet process because dance can also be categorized as exercise because it produces sweat. Sometimes in a day I can memorize 1-2 movements and finally after dancing I feel very healthy. Maybe this is a short story about myself and this is what my life is like

22. Huda Maulida

Huda Maulida is one of the student at islamic state of Antasari that has an unique and strong personality. Huda is the second child of five, thus force her to become a strong woman for her brothers, sister, and parents. Furthermore, she is no longer "a child" because of her twenty. Although people said that age is doesnt determine someone maturity, but it seems different to her. Indeed she must become a strong and mature person.

To illustrate her personality, she is a type of person that will not ask for help as long as she can do it alone. she always trying to provide a solution for the problems around her. she also a person that always on time in all chance. Don't forget her great concern for those around her.

However, Huda still has many shortcomings because she still a human. First, she is temperamental and panicked person. in case of her problems mixed with her care to people around her, she automatically easy to get panic. next, she is really sentimental girl. Specifically when its come to her beloved people, she will become weak. the last, she still often hurts the feelings of people around her.

when a wise guy said that nobody is perfect, it calmed her down a bit. To summarise, Huda is an imperfect woman that try to be strong in facing her own life. she always tries to improve her self to become a better person. Especially not to hurt the people around her.
