

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTION

A. Conclusion

Based on the analysis result and interpretation of data analysis in teacher's strategy to encourage learner's autonomy at MA Ni'matul Aziz Jelapa, the conclusions that can be drawn are as follows.

1. The aspects used by the teacher to encourage learner's autonomy are in accordance with aspects of song and hill that are Personal attributes: the teacher is able to motivate students to learn independently, the teacher is able to foster student responsibility in learning and also in doing assignments, the teacher always asks students to concentrate on learning and doing assignments, the teacher asks students to collect each assignment in a timely manner, before teaching The teacher always prepares the teaching materials in advance such as a dictionary, textbooks, and LCD. Processes : the teacher asks students to always be active and able to teach students to dare to express opinions in study groups, the teacher asks the students to always ask if they have difficulties in learning, the teacher asks students to always record important things conveyed by the teacher, if the teacher cannot attend to teach class so the teacher entrusts notes and assignments to the class leader first, the teacher also always checks and provides feedback on the assignments students do.

Learning context: the teacher is able to create a comfortable atmosphere in the classroom so that students can concentrate on learning.

2. Contribution of students in teacher's strategy to encourage learner's autonomy that are that are the teacher always gives learning motivation to the students, the teacher be able to responsible in teaching, perservering in teaching at the class, on time present at the class, the teacher be able to prepare tools and the learning goals, be able to setting the time while the teaching, the teacher always prioritize in teaching, the teacher always asks the students to acive and dare gives opinions in the learning group, the teacher gives feedback to the students assignments, and the teacher are able to bring the atmophere when teaching at the class.

B. Suggestion

From the result, the resercher conducted at MA Ni'matul Aziz Jelapat 1, the researcher gets several suggestions, namely:

1. For the teacher : It should always gives the motivation for the students in each learning process to learner autonomy so the students can be easy to develop their learner autonomy.
2. For the students : The students must maintain their learner's autonomy in a way to always practice the aspect of learner auonomy.