

CHAPTER III

FINDINGS AND DISCUSSIONS

A. Synopsis of Toy Story

Woody (Tom Hanks) is a pull-string cowboy doll and leader of a group of toys that belong to a boy named Andy Davis (John Morris), which act lifeless when humans are present. With his family moving homes one week before his birthday, Andy is given a week early party to spend with his friends. The toys stage a reconnaissance mission to discover Andy's new presents. Andy receives a space ranger Buzz Lightyear (Tim Allen) action figure, whose impressive features see him replacing Woody as Andy's favorite toy. Woody is resentful, especially as Buzz also gets attention from the other toys. However Buzz believes himself to be a real space ranger on a mission to return to his home planet, as Woody fails to convince him he is a toy.

Andy prepares for a family outing at the space themed Pizza Planet restaurant. His mother tells him he can only bring one toy. Woody attempts to be picked instead of Buzz by trapping Buzz in a gap behind Andy's desk, but the plan goes disastrously wrong when he accidentally knocks Buzz out the window, resulting in the other toys accusing him of murdering Buzz out of jealousy. With Buzz missing, Andy takes Woody to Pizza Planet, but Buzz climbs into the car and confronts Woody when they stop at a gas station. The two fight and fall out of the car, which drives off and leaves them behind. Woody spots a truck bound for Pizza

Planet and plans to rendezvous with Andy there, convincing Buzz to come with him by telling him it will take him to his home planet. Once at Pizza Planet, Buzz makes his way into a claw game machine shaped like a spaceship, thinking it to be the ship Woody promised him. Inside, he finds squeaky aliens who revere the claw arm as their master. Woody clammers into the machine after Buzz, but they are interrupted when Andy's neighbor Sid Phillips (Erik von Detten), arrives and operates the machine. Spotting a Buzz Lightyear amidst the squeaky aliens, Sid maneuvers the claw to pick up Buzz. In the ensuing struggle the aliens force Buzz and Woody towards the claw, and they are captured. Woody is horrified because of Sid's reputation for torturing and destroying toys.

At Sid's house, the two attempt to escape before Andy's moving day, encountering Sid's nightmarish toy creations and his vicious dog, Scud. Buzz sees a commercial for Buzz Lightyear action figures and realizes that he really is a toy. Disbelieving, he attempts to fly, but instead falls and loses his left arm. Buzz goes into depression and is unable to cooperate with Woody. Woody waves Buzz's arm from a window to seek help from the toys in Andy's room, but they are horrified thinking Woody had murdered Buzz when they see Buzz's disconnected arm, while Woody realizes Sid's toys are friendly when they reconnect Buzz's arm. Sid prepares to destroy Buzz by strapping him to a rocket, but is delayed that evening by a thunderstorm. Woody convinces Buzz that life is worth living because of the joy he can bring to Andy, which helps Buzz regain his spirit. Cooperating with Sid's toys, Woody rescues Buzz and scares Sid away by 'breaking a few rules' and coming to life in front of him, warning him to never harm toys again. Woody and Buzz then wave goodbye to the mutant toys and return home through a fence, but miss Andy's car as it drives away to his new house.

Down the road, they climb onto the moving truck containing Andy's other toys, but Scud chases them, bites down on Woody's leg and tries to pull him off. Buzz tackles the dog to save Woody. Woody attempts to rescue Buzz with Andy's RC car but the other toys, who think Woody had now got rid of RC together with Buzz, attack Woody and toss him off on to the road. After Scud is trapped in a car pileup, Woody drives RC back with Buzz alive, and the other toys, who realize their mistake, try to help them get in the truck. However they fail as RC's batteries become depleted, but Woody ignites the rocket on Buzz's back and manages to throw RC into the moving truck before they soar into the air. Buzz opens his wings to cut him free before the rocket explodes, gliding with Woody to land safely into a box in Andy's car. Andy looks into it and is elated to have found his two missing toys.

On Christmas Day at their new house, Buzz and Woody stage another reconnaissance mission to prepare for the new toy arrivals, one of which is a Mrs. Potato Head, much to the delight of Mr. Potato Head. As Woody jokingly asks what might be worse than Buzz, the two share a worried smile as they discover Andy's new gift is a puppy.

B. Toy Story Characters

1. Andy's Toys

a. Woody

Sheriff Woody Pride is a cowboy, and Andy's favorite. Appearing in all three Toy Story films, he usually acts as the leader of the gang. His rivalry with Buzz forms the basis of the plot of the first film. In Toy Story 2, he is stolen at a yard sale by a toy collector, causing the other toys to embark on a rescue mission. In Toy Story 3 he and the other toys are shipped to a daycare.

b. Buzz Lightyear

Buzz Lightyear is a "space ranger", and wears a space suit with various features such as retractable wings and transparent helmet, a laser "weapon", and various sound effects. In Toy Story, he begins the series and develops a rivalry with Woody, who resents him for getting more attention as the newcomer. He is extremely loyal to his friends. During his time trapped at Sid's house, Hannah, Sid's sister, called Buzz Mrs. Nesbit. In Toy Story 2, Buzz goes to save Woody from Al with Potato Head, Ham, Rex, and Slinky (Slinky Dog) where he gets stuck in the Buzz Lightyear aisle in Al's Toy Barn by another Buzz and finds out for himself what he was really like. In Toy Story 3, a friendship begins to develop between Buzz and Jessie. He is particularly open with his affection when switched to "Spanish mode".

c. Jessie

Jessica Jane "Jessie" Pride is a cowgirl, and part of the Woody's Round Up gang. She first appeared in Toy Story 2 along with Bullseye and Stinky Pete. Initially, Jessie was hesitant to join Andy's friends. After she becomes part of the family, she is very happy (after the despite the Andy first calls her Bazooka Jane). In Toy Story 3, she was riding Bullseye when Woody fell off the train in Andy's opening sequence. She argued with Woody on their way to Sunnyside Daycare because of when the others think Andy threw them out. Later in the film, Jessie feels close with Buzz, even when Buzz got switched into Spanish. At the end, Jessie and Buzz danced to the Spanish version of "You've Got a Friend in Me". Jessie also appears in Pixar's Monsters inc. as one of the toys Boo gives Sully.

d. Evil Emperor Zurg

Evil Emperor Zurg is a space villain action figure and Buzz Lightyear's arch-enemy. He has red evil eyes with neon gritting teeth, silver horns on his head, a purple tunic with a black cape on it and his weapon, a gun (which has a power control that, as an homage to This is Spinal Tap, goes to 11). In some cases, he does not have a gun but a hand like the one on his other arm. In the first film, Zurg is a referenced character, and does not appear at all. However, Zurg is first seen in the opening sequence of the second film when Buzz is trying to take his main power away from him (Zurg's main power is from an AA battery). In the ensuing battle, Zurg vaporizes the top half of Buzz Lightyear's body with his gun. The sequence then cuts showing that the opening sequence was actually a video game played by Rex. As the story progresses, a Zurg toy in Al's Toy Barn bursts out from its box and follows Andy's Buzz Lightyear, who is on the way to rescue Woody from Al McWhiggin. Zurg is deluded, similar to Andy's Buzz in the first film. In the second film, another copy of Buzz Lightyear, who also acts similar to Buzz in the first film, escapes from Al's Toy Barn and battles with Zurg using toy components (pin balls and lights). In a reference to the relationship of Luke Skywalker and Darth Vader, the principal hero and villain respectively of the original Star Wars trilogy, Evil Emperor Zurg claims he is in fact the father of Buzz, in an almost word-for-word parody of the scene in The Empire Strikes Back. As Zurg attempts to finish off Buzz #2 (at point-blank range), Rex accidentally hits Zurg with his large tail, sending him falling down the elevator shaft. The second Buzz then looks over the shaft and reaches his hand out, thinking he has lost his father, while Rex is excited that he has finally managed to defeat Zurg in real life. Near the end of the film, Zurg is seen to have survived his fall with a bent horn and is now playing catch with the Buzz copy. He supposedly bumped his head so hard so as he forgot he was Buzz Lightyear's worst enemy. The second Buzz Lightyear then says, "Oh, you're a great dad!" as he rushes to catch another ball fired by Zurg.

Zurg is mentioned in the third film by Buzz in his bad guy character after Lotso resets him to Demo mode. Zurg appears briefly during a sequence in the end credits, where he is donated to Sunnyside Daycare center and greeted by Stretch.

Zurg also appears in Buzz Lightyear of Star Command and its direct-to-video movie Buzz Lightyear of Star Command: The Adventure Begins. Zurg says he is Lightyear's father during a fight in order to shock Lightyear, before regaining the advantage during the fight and then denying the truth of that previous claim. Whether or not this is actually true, Buzz definitely does not know who his father is. This version of Zurg is also severely lightened up, going from the movie's Darth Vader-esque version to a far less intimidating one; in the TV series Zurg is a flamboyant villain who is just as much a comic relief character as he is a formidable opponent, similar to Skeletor. This Zurg is known for videotaping Buzz's speeches, maintaining a troll doll collection, and various other comedic habits. He is shown to have a bit of a British accent throughout the series. It is revealed in the first episode that there is a Nana Zurg, but she is never seen at all (although he claims that she's "plenty evil"). Zurg would appear to be a cyborg of some description, also much like Darth Vader. However, it has also been discussed amongst fans that his "cybernetic" traits could also very well be because of advanced technology. There is yet to be a clear answer.

A hot wheels track and cars can be seen in the first 2 films where Woody and Buzz can be seen using the cars as skateboards and the track as a ramp to safely get from the desk to the floor. The track set is based on the

Hot Wheels Stunt Action Set from 1968. The 2 cars that were used are the Hot wheels "Classic Nomad" and "Red Barron" both originally released in 1970

2. Andy Davis

Andy Davis is the owner of Woody, Buzz and the other toys in each of the three films. He lives with his mother and younger sister Molly; his father is never seen or mentioned in the films and supplementary materials indicate that his parents may have divorced, or Andy's father may have either died or simply left the family. Toy Story 2 implies that Woody might be a hand-me-down toy, and when introducing the 2009 set of Toy Story collectibles, John Lasseter said "We always imagined he was a hand-me-down to Andy from his father."

In Toy Story, Andy is 8 years old and receives a Buzz Lightyear action figure for his 8th birthday party (which moved earlier due to the move). Tension erupts between Buzz and Woody, who has always prided himself on being Andy's favorite. Andy initially spends much more time with his new toy, but still has a special place in his heart for Woody. Thus, he becomes concerned when both toys go missing for a time, fearing they would be lost during his family's move to a new house.

C. Idioms Found in Films Toy Story

The Idioms appeared in the movies. The writer found 45 idiomatic expressions in Toy Story. They as follows:

Table 3.1. Type of Idiom. Verb phrase

No	Idioms	Meaning	Idioms found in the film	Type of idiom
1.	Take care	Take yourself healthy or to protect someone	The toys march foeward, forming a circle around sid and Woody say : From now on, you must take good care of your toys. Because if you don't, we'll find out, Sid. We toys can see..	Verb Phrase
2.	Blow up	to inflate something	The rocket hurtles upward higher and higher. And Woody say : Ahh!! This is the part where we blow up !!	Verb phrase
3.	Blown up	sl. Intoxicated	Sid stops short and looks at Woody again. Woody (voice box) say : that's right. I'm talking to you, Sid Phillips. We don't like being blown up , Sid, or smashed, or ripped apart...	Verb phrase
4.	Buy out	to buy all that available of particular item	Rex talk with Mr. Potato head, he say : And I'm from Mattel. Well, I'm not actually from Mattel, I'm actually from a smaller company that was purchased in a leveraged buy out . Well, I don't really understand the financials, but...	Verb phrase
5.	Catch up	(For excitement or interest)	Woody has climbed up on to the rear bumper of the van be realizing that Buzz is missing. He looks back to discover Buzz	Verb phrase

		To extend to and engross someone	stuck in the fence. Buzz say: just go! I'll catch up!
6.	Come on	to work, to hurry up	Slinky passes a group of toys on the floor and say: Got a staff meeting you guys, come on let's go! All rest of the toys in room are filing past. Slinky say: Come on, come on,! Smaller toys up front Slinky talk with potato ahead: Hey, hey! Come on, Potato head! If woody says it's all right, then, well, darn it, it's good enough for me. Woody has never steered us wrong before. Mrs. Davis say with andy and a flood of children's: Come on down, guy. It's time for games! We've got prizes! Woody drags Buzz towards sid's room and say: Come on, this way! Buzz looks away from woody and bows his head. Woody says: Oh, Come on Buzz. I...Buzz, can't do this without you. I need your help. Buzz on the top of the milkcreate, say to woody: Come on, sheriff. There's a kid over in that house that need us. Now let's you out of this thing.	Verb phrase

			Buzz and Woody push the milk create together, Woody says: Come on, Buzz! We can do it! Buzz run after truck passes and steps behind and says: Come on!
7.	Crying out	to scream or shout in pain, joy, anger	Hamm say to Rex and say: Ah, for crying out loud, they're all in boxes, you idiot!	Verb phrase
8.	Come Over	to ,move over and above someone or something	Potato Head grabs the string of the lights away from Slinky. Woody say : No, I'm not! (to buzz) Buzz, come over the nice toys that you're not dead.	Verb phrase
9.	Calm down	to relax, become less busy or active	The toys look down at woody and he say : If I send out the troops, will you all calm down ? The toys perk up as static suddenly emits from the baby monitor.	Verb phrase
10.	Come in	to enter	Sargent says :Come in, mother bird, this is alpha bravo. Sargent say in andy bedroom : Come in, mother bird, come in mother bird Buzz eyes it all suspiciously and push a button on. He say : Buzz lightyear to Star Command. Come in, Star Command. Woody climbs up onto bed. Sargent say : Come in, Frankincense. Andy is now opening his first present—	Verb phrase

11.	Come back	to return	The rest of Andy’s toys gather around the window to see. Slinky say : I knew you’d come back, Woody! All toys leave the window except Slinky. Woody say :Come back! Slink! Slink! Please! Please! Listen to me! (continued) No! No! Come back! SLI-I-I-I-INKYY!!	Verb phrase
12.	Dibs on	a claim on something	The army men yell charge and pounce on woody, while all rest of the toys. Hamm say : I got dibs on his hat !	Verb Phrase
13.	Find out	to discover someone not at home	In Andy bedroom where Woody receiving half of the baby monitor. He say : And this—(Turning on the baby monitor)—how we find out what is in those present	Verb Phrase
14.	Speed up	To cause someone or something move faster	All of a sudden, the RC Car begins to slow down pulling Slinky’s front end off the ramp. Slinky say :Woddy! Speed up! And Woddy say to Buzz : Speed up! Woody removes the teapot from the severed	Verb phrase
15.	Snap out	To remove someone or something	Woody talk with arm and talking with Buzz. He say: Snap out of it, Buzz!	Verb phrase
16.	Get down	sl.to concentrate to do something well	Woody leaps off the partition and tackles Buzz, pushing two of them deep into the pile of alien. Woody say : Get down !!	Verb Phrase

17.	Get up	to wake someone up	Frantic, Woody walks over to the edge of desk. Woody say : Buzz! Will you get up here and give me a hand ?!	Verb Phrase
18.	Take back	To take possession of something that one had previously given way	Buzz jumps down on the back seat to face Woody. Woody say: Buzz! You're alive! This is great! Oh, I'm saved! I'm saved! Andy'll find you here, he'll take us back to the room, and then you can tell everyone that this was all just big mistake. Huh ?	Verb phrase
19.	Stay away	Go to away	Woody approaches the skateboard, grabs hold of Buzz's and roll him out from under ship and say : Listen, Lightsnack, you stay away from Andy. He's mine and no one is taking him away from me.	Verb phrase
20.	Help out	lit. to assist someone or something with person or a thing to be patient or	Woody runs towards Buzz who spots woody approaching. Buzz whisper to woody : Woody?! Great! Help me out of this thing !	Verb Phrase
21.	Hold on	Stop right there to wait awhile	Back of moving truck. The toys are gathered around Slinky, his spring splayed on the floor. Slinky say : I should held on longer. The RC Car pulls back just before the heavy ramp slams the road. Sparks fly everywhere from the metal scraping pavement. Slinky say to other toys Quick!	Verb Phrase

			Hold on to my tail!
22.	Hang on	To pause in telephone conversation	I can't hold on much longer! and Woody say : Slinky! Hang on!
23.	Kick out	to move something out	Hamm says to all toys: They must have kicked him out early this year.	Verb Phrase
24.	Leave up	leave something up	Andy: Can we leave this up till we move? Mrs. Davis: Well, sure, we can leave it up.	Verb Phrase
25.	See ya	See you	Buzz lifts his head up and wail in drunken despair. He say: Gone! It's go-o-one! All of It's gone. Bye-bye! Whoo-hoo! See ya! Andy say to woody: See ya later , Woody.	Verb phrase
26.	Save the day	to produce a good result when bad result was expected	Andy wearing a cowboy hat. Picks up woody and say : You saved the day again , woody	Verb phrase
27.	Reach for the sky	Lit. to set one sight high	Andy's hand pulls on the ring in the center of woody's. Woody's voice box say "Reach for the sky" . Woody (Voice box) say to Sid: Reach for the sky!!	Verb phrase
28.	Pick up	go to place in car, bus	Mrs. Davis comes down hard and say: Oww! What in the world--? Oh, I thought I told him to pick these up. Woody answer Rex question: I was close to	Verb Phrase being scared that time.

29.	Pack up	to prepare something	In Downstair Sargent say to army men : Mission accomplished. Well done, men. Pack it up we're going home	Verb Phrase
30.	Pay up	to pay what is owed	In Andy's bedroom window, Hamm talk with Mr. Potato head. He say : Oh, quit your whing and pay up	Verb Phrase
31.	Run over	to pass someone over	. Andy play as potato head talk with Bo peep. He say : Quite boo peep, or your sheep get run over ! Mr.Potato head talk with other toys : Only it sounds like a car run over it .	Verb Phrase
32.	Run away	to fleet someone or something	In Andy's house,The toys look at one another. Hamm say : Well addah-ya-know, the weasel run away	Verb Phrase
33.	Run off	to get rid of something	Buzz flips open a plastics compartment on his arm—his wrist communicator say : Buzz lightyear Mission Log. Stardate 4072 : My ship has run off course en route to sector 12. I've crash landed on a strange planet. . I've crash landed on a strange planet. The impact must have awoken me from hyper-sleep	Verb phrase

Table 3.2. Types of Idiom. Noun Phrase

No	Idioms	Meaning	Idioms found in the film	Type of idiom
1.	All right	An indication of agreement or acquiescence	Slinky talk with potato ahead: Hey, hey! Come on, Potato head! If woody says its all right , then, well, darnit, it's good enough for me. Woody has never steered us wrong before. Buzz says agreement to woody : All right , then, I will (to toys) Stand back everyone ! Woody points to little diagram of the house : All right , listen up. I need pump boy here – Ducky here. Legs?	Noun Phrase
2.	String up	To hang someone	Woody find Mr. Potato say: Let's string him up by his pull string.	Noun Phrase

Table 3.3 Type of Idiom. Interjection

No	Idioms	Meaning	Idioms found in the film	Type of idiom
1.	Go ahead	Please do it	Woody says agreement to Buzz. He says: Yeah, sure. You go ahead . Melt him with your scary laser.	Interjection
2.	Go away	Leave me	Woody jumps down from the desk and runs to Buzz rescue. And say : Go away , you Buzz at the end of truck, walking away from woody. And say: Go away .	Interjection

3.	Get out	leave this place	In a moving truck, Woody talk with Buzz and say : We've got to get out of here...NOW	Interjection
4.	Hurry up	To move faster	The delivery truck's engine has stalled. Pizza deliverer say: C'mon, man, hurry up . Um, like the pizza's are getting cold here	Interjection
5.	Let go	To fire someone	Slinky passes a group of toys and say: Got a staff meeting, you guys, come on, let's go! Woody helps the rest of the mutant toys onto the skateboard woody say: Alright, let's go .	Interjection
6.	Look out	go to watch out for someone or something	Woody finds himself setting in front of Buzz (still hold remote) Buzz say: Look out!! Woody finds himself sitting in front of the Buzz (Still hold the remote).Woody say: Well, thanks for the ride. Buzz (pointing ahead) Look out!!	Interjection
7.	Shut up	To silent someone	Woody inches away from tire, moving back under truck he whispering: Shut up! Just shut up! You idiot!! Slinky. He say: Oh, shut up! In a couple of days, everything will be just the way it was. They'll see...they'll see. I'm still Andy's favorite toy.	Interjection

Table 3.4. Type of Idiom. Adverb Phrase

No	Idioms	Meaning	Idiom found in the film	Type of idiom
1.	Well done	Fig. you did that nicely	In downstairs house plan. Sergeant says to army men “Mission accomplished. Well done , men. Pack it up, we’re going home.	Adverb phrase
2.	Light up	To become brighter	Andy’s friend say: Hey look! His laser light up ?	Adverb phrase

Table 3.5 Type of Idiom. Adjective Phrase

No	Idioms	Meaning	Idiom found in the film	Type of idiom
1.	Right now	To fleet someone or something	Buzz walk to the edge of the truck tire and points up to stars. He say: Right now , poised at the edge of the galaxy, emperor Zurg has been secretly building a weapon with the destructive capacity to annihilate an entire planet. I alone have information that reveals this weapon’s only weakness. (pointing at woody) and you my friend, are responsible for delaying my rendezvous with Star Command	Adjective phrase

After conducting a thorough analysis the movie, the writer consider that People can learn some valuable things from the movies its moral value like true friend is always for you in thick time or happy time, no matter how dark the present, you can always see the light only you don't forget to turn it on and so on. Another valuable thing is people can learn about its language feature that is believed quite rich in the movie. As this movie is about an imagination, it tells people that we can high dream high as long as we don't forget to wake up and make it true.