

CHAPTER V CLOSURE

A. Conclusion

Based on the findings and discussion in the previous chapter. Using J.L Austin theory, there are three types of speech act locutionary, illocutionary, and perlocutionary acts. The writer concludes:

1. There are one hundred and two data (see chapter IV) that can be analyzed related to locutionary, illocutionary, and perlocutionary acts performed by Oprah in Oprah Winfrey's Show when interviewing J.K Rowling, the Harry Potter's author. Among one hundred and two data, the writer found twenty two data locutionary act, eighty data of illocutionary act, and ninety four data of perlocutionary act.

2. Among eighty data of illocutionary acts the writer classify them into sixty seven directives, seven assertives and six expressives

3. The writer found that the most frequent type of illocutionary act that used by Oprah is directive type. The writer conclude that in the talk show program the host will take control of the course of program and asks many question that made he found many illocutionary acts there with directive type. Then the guest will always answer or give opinion to what the host said, those will be perlocutionary acts.

B. Suggestion

From the conclusion above the writer proposes to explain how locutionary, illocutionary and perlocutionary acts occur in the utterance Oprah in Oprah Winfrey's Show. Consequently, for the readers who want to analyze the illocutionary act of the talk show, they should require their analysis with the answer of interviewer. Then, for the other researchers who are interested in Pragmatics study, not only Talk show but also the other media such as movie, newspaper, TV, radio which can also be the object of other pragmatic study analysis.

Based on this study, the writer hopes to the readers or other researchers that this study will be useful for future improvement of Pragmatic study, basically Locutionary, Illocutionary and Perlocutionary acts theory used in the Talk show, especially in the Tarbiyah and Education Faculty, Antasari State Institute for Islamic Studies Banjarmasin.
