

CHAPTER III

RESEARCH METHOD

A. The Method of Research

The research methods used in this research is qualitative method which is valuable “to assist the researcher in deciding whether the teaching program needed to be modified or altered in any way so that the objectives may be achieved more directly” (Nunan, 1992).

B. Research setting

The writer takes place for this research at MAN 3 Banjarmasin in Mulawarman street. It was held from 11th August 2015 until 12nd October 2015. The writer chose this place because there is English Club at there, and one of the best of English Club at Banjarmasin.

C. Subject

The subject of this research are 30 students who join the English club. The subject is all of the member from English Club.

D. Source of Data

1. Data

The data collected in the research is the student of MAN 3 Banjarmasin who join in English Club

2. Source of data

a. Respondents: 30 Students member of English club at MAN 3 Banjarmasin.

b. Informant: English teacher of MAN 3 Banjarmasin

c. Documents: all written resources that needed in this research

E. The Techniques of Data Collection

In collecting data, the writer uses:

1. Observation

The writer observed the English club program directly to find out the English atmosphere and also how the English club work.

2. Interview

Interview is to gain more reliable data taken from the members of English club. It also regarded more factual since the members of English club are forced indirectly to give the explanation about English club program

F. Data Analysis

After the collected data have been processed, then it analysis to know the results based on the problem statements in qualitative method in order to have an answer to the questions that is mentioned before properly.