

CHAPTER V

CLOSURE

A. Conclusion

The purpose of this research is to know the teaching English experience of non-English department students of UIN Antasari in Southern Thailand Schools and also the teaching method and technique they are used. Based on the research findings and discussion, there are two conclusions must be paid attention as follows :

1. The experience of non-English department students in teaching English in Southern Thailand is quite varied. There are collaborating with the teachers in school, some are teaching only in the classroom, some are teaching in extracurricular only, and the rest is teaching English for young learner even though he comes from Math Education.
2. The method and technique used by non-English department students in teaching English is the Direct Method, Total Physical Response and Grammatical Translation Method.

B. Suggestion

The writer would like to suggest other researchers to conduct further studies on this topic. Future research may investigate the same topic, but with different data, for example : future researcher might investigate the role of Indonesian students in International Teacher Training program or the practice of English teaching in one of Southern Thailand's school, so that the result will be wider. In addition, it will be interesting to compare the English department and non-English department students in teaching English experience in Southern Thailand. Moreover, further investigation into other part of thesis, such as discussion is strongly recommended.
