A living language such as English is a dynamic flow of spoken and written terms, eternally evolving. Whenever people use the language they cause it to flow in and around itself, creating new meanings, ways to express. Trudgill (1974) clearly stated that phenomenon of slang language that was shaped by a phenomenon that has always existed in the language but it has been ignored by linguists for a very long time and these slang languages characterize the culture and ras' identity. It appropriated with the pronouncement, He was argument who said that sociolinguistics is the part of linguistics which is connected with language as a social and cultural phenomenon. It is showed that language is not only the social phenomenon but also based on cultural phenomenon.

There is no significant changing between slang words before 2000 and after year 2000. By the developing of period and cultue changing that happened in association, slang words grew and developed in many circles that were used it. Slang words were created in life could replace the humouros word or keep words secret meaning and because many people wanted other language excepted standart English for expressing the idea.

From period to period, slang word grew and be used. We can see in the finding, slang words were used by singers in 2000 had a little slang words in their lyrics. Because slang was still reputed as taboo, vulgar, and not satndart language. But, slang words had became daily language now because language easily developed and language as deliver for people talked what they want to talk. Brown and Attardo (2005, p 13) they stated that language is used to communicate with others, without thinking about it.

The researcher did some research on the theme or topic that is used by the singer Western song. Totality that they bring in singing is reflected in the lyrics. Many of them disclose the contents of their hearts with singing. The researcher found the difference between a singer in before 2000 and after year 2000 in expressing the theme or topic of the song that is in the song. From the 20 songs are the reseacher, and with a variety of themes and topics submitted by the singer can be seen that the singer in before 2000 uses a lot of their feelings to express to the lady. They used a lot of the theme of love to express or describe the content of the song. From the lyrics look like they are very expressive in presenting what they feel. It's all it can be viewed from the way they deliver the content of the song lyrics that they bring to the audience of their songs. As to the theme or topic the other for example social, they're not too much on the theme or topic. They tend to use the theme of love from on the theme of social. All they say in the song they told you that way in to express the hearts and their feelings. It is different from Western song that was delivered in after year 2000 they tend to like the theme of social in comparing with the theme or topic the song which the love. They was more revealing what they feel for their lives, the environment, and their habits. They said it all in that song. Express what they feel through song. In the year in after year 2000 are likely to age has been developed and the language used is enough vulgar. The lyrics are the songs that used to be loading the the tube that is because many of the environment that brings the influence of the content of the songs submitted so that impact on the content or content that is in the song.

Now the difference as seen from the amount of slang word in Western songs these lyrics. In the year before 2000 the number of slang that appear in every song to 96 slang words and a lot of songs out in after year 2000 amounted to 101. Then so is thin, slang words that appear in all the lyrics, so that the researcher can see that slang words from year to year is not lost interest in it. The year was different then the use of slang words more and more. Slang words came up with the delivery of his own, used by many people in the world to reveal or replace formal language that's taken so many. Slang words give a new color when we talk and convey meaning between the lines in the song. This can be seen from the author of songs using the slang words in the song. The slang word famous of the more people use it, and not just young people who use slang word even adults can get it. Because slang words a language non-standart and can be used by young people and adults

2. The analysis of slang language

Related to analysis of slang language in the western songs lyrics, the researcher found 72 slang word in the western songs lyrics in before 2000 and 60 in after year 2000 . The researcher found many slang words in western song lyrics even in different period. And the writer took sample of RnB songs in year that had developed fro language, culture, or environment. In association, young people became language's deliver quikly because language could grow, spread, be used in whole world. That findings can prove the theory (Кадыркулова, p 186) stated slang is worthy of the attention of linguists in its own right, but further that, as an exciting and controversial form of language which belongs to young people and to youth culture.

Slang has some characteristics and words formation. The researcher found slang word in western songs lyrics and used six forms of slang. They are blending, clipping, multiple process, coinage, compounding, and acronym.

The researcher began the analysis slang word with the blending formation. Yule (2006: 52- 59) clearly stated that blending is another way of combining two words in order to generate a new word. The researcher got the research' result that blending formation in slang word are motel, gonna, gotta, imma, tryna, ain't, oughtta, wanna, kinda, gon'. That word is new word that was created from 2 phrase and used in everywhere conversation. From the example above, then it is clear that blending is the way the formation of a new word, such as to the property is a new word formed from two words motorists and hotel, and in used a means of two word motor and hotel. So, I'd better in making blending be noted also the meaning of words that were about to be combined in order not to make difficult time to communicate well written and oral.

The second, the researcher found slang word in that clipping formation. There are Phone, 'em, 'coz, 'bout, C'mon, Ballin', Def, Bringit, Sellin, Bae, Whassup, Hang out, Hol'up, Prolly, Buzzer, and Hood. This word slang prove the stated to the shortening of the polysyllabic word into a shorter form which usually consists of one syllable only. Yule (2006: 52- 59) is clearly stated that process the formation of words that have been obtained by the writer used in a way to cut part of the word itself and the word has more than one syllable that got the process of cutting said at the start or end.

Then, the researcher found slangs word in that multiple process formation. This is multiple process that found the writer is internet. This word slang prove the stated to a word can be created through more than one of the above-mentioned processes. For example, internet from the word :

Coinage, the researcher found baby, daddy, mamma, babe, homies, dat in coinage formation. It is prove from Yule (2006: 52- 59) stated about coinage is the invention of a totally new term and then the most typical sources are invented trade names for commercial products that become general terms. People will tend to mention the name on products that be like it, and which works with it.

After that, compounding is the joining of two separate words to produce a single word. For example, instagram from two separate words insta and gram. In this case can be seen that compounding and blending have a significantly better than the exact meaning of the word and the process of formation of new words. With this could be deduced that pipelines to form new words from parts of the word that formed it and have the meaning of words from the (to more clearly look back on the 'BLENDING'). while the compound, to form new words from the overall two or more which is the meaning of the said the new could be much different from words that formed it or it could be is the meaning of words from it.

And the last, acronym. Acronym It's the process of forming with how to extract from the beginning of every syllable that is structured to mention the acronym or the extension of a term and the results can be spoken as a word. There are acronym of slang in the songs lyrics D.J., TV, A.M., P.M., O.G., AC, OK, BM, DNA, DYKE, THOT, Bae. Acronym it is a type of abbreviation, which are new words formed from the initial letters of a set of words. They are pronounced as new single words. This stated prove with Yule (2006: 52- 59) and it is clearly.
