The challenge for education that cannot be denied is globalization and technological progress on the one hand. On the other hand, education is also faced with the increasing variety of life pressures. Paul G. Stoltz invented a new type of intelligence theory from the psychological paradigm, namely Adversity Quotient (ability to face difficulties), that is, a person's ability to observe difficulties and cultivate those difficulties with his or her intelligence so that it becomes a challenge to be solved.

The Qur'an is a holy book filled with educational values. Among the content of the Qur'an are stories. One of the stories in the Qur'an is the story of Prophet Moses that is found in many surahs in the Qur'an. In the story of Prophet Moses there are many extraordinary values and lessons especially in how to deal with adversity.

This research is a qualitative research using library approach. In exploring the values of education Adversity Quotient on the story of Prophet Moses the writer uses Mawdilâ’î tafsir method and Content Analize technique. The formulation of the problem in this research is how the description of the story of Prophet Musa in the Qur'an? And how are the values of Adversity Quotient education on the story of Prophet Musa in the Qur'an?

From the results of research, revealed the following important matters. First, the story of Prophet Moses described in the Qur'an is the most abundant story than other stories. The story of Moses is described by Allah in the Qur'an completely. The story of Prophet Moses in the Qur'an describes the journey of Prophet Moses which full of the twists and adversity of life, the difficulties and challenges. Secondly, the Adversity Quotient's educational values contained in the story of Prophet Musa in the Qur'an are the values of patience, the value of optimism and unyielding, the value of the great soul and the value of jihad. Patient values are aligned with the control dimensions of the Adversity Quotient, the optimistic and unyielding values aligned with the ownership dimension of Adversity Quotient, the great-souled values aligned with the reach dimensions of Adversity Quotient and the value of jihad aligned with the endurance dimension of Adversity Quotient. These values are indispensable in the perspective of Islamic education, to produce generations who love the struggle, never give up with all barriers, dare to face the challenge, immune to the difficulties and passion in life, especially the world of Islamic education.
